Sympathy Collection

We have carefully created a range of pieces to present you with a number of colour options and design styles for this sensitive time.

You may simply choose from this selection or you may prefer to discuss your requirements further with your Interflora florist. Combining their floristry design skills with your own thoughts, your Interflora florist will carefully select a style and the flowers and colours to create your own individual piece.

From loose, natural designs to more formal tributes, flowers offer a simple and elegant way to pay your respects and express your feelings. With the assurance of the Interflora name, you can also be sure that your order will be created with care and delivered by hand, whether it is being delivered locally or on the other side of the world.
